Basically a pre-canned version.

This is going to be fun.

Subject: Static map on data page

Hi everyone.

I'll mockup a version of the sampling page with a static screenshot of the map.

There will be a link to the full size interactive map and anchor links to the data list below. Additionally, the static map will be clickable and take users to the full page interactive map.

In parallel, I'll reach out to Harvey Simon to ask him to pursue his suggestions about performance of the interactive map.

I want to make sure we're all looking at the same map. This is the map that was updated today. It loads very quickly on multiple devices we've tested it on. However, I still plan to follow up with Harvey on his suggestions
